

Transition Update #9 - July 30, 2007

The Presidential Search Committee met on July 24. The position of president is now being advertised in various news outlets and there is a summary of qualifications on the web at <http://www.united.edu/positions/president.shtml>.

The group has already identified a number of strong candidates and will begin to interview these candidates within the coming weeks.

The committee will continue to meet every two weeks throughout the process.
